

We can do better at end-of-life communication.

Death & Dying Fellowship

... one of the Jewish Healthcare Foundation Feinstein Fellowships

Build the skills you need to have meaningful conversations around death, dying, and what matters most at the end of life.

Now in its 10th year, this Fellowship continues to address a key challenge: the reality that professionals are ill-prepared to communicate about death, dying, and grief with patients and families.

What You'll Learn

You'll learn, confront, and discuss the legal, medical, social, cultural, familial, and spiritual aspects of death and dying within a multidisciplinary group in a low-pressure environment.

Over the course of nine sessions, you'll have the opportunity to practice conversation skills and participate in site visits.

Who Should Apply

Current or recent graduate students in

- Medicine
- Nursing
- Pharmacy
- Occupational Therapy
- Physical Therapy
- Rehabilitation
- Dentistry
- Speech Pathology
- Social Work
- Psychology
- Counseling
- Ethics
- Health Policy
- Public Health
- Law
- Business
- Pastoral Care

The 2024 Death and Dying Fellowship runs on Mondays from 5–7:30 pm, January 22 to March 25, with a combination of in-person sessions/site visits and virtual sessions (no session March 4).

APPLY TODAY:

www.hcfutures.org/fellowships/death-dying-fellowship

DEADLINE TO APPLY: DECEMBER 14

Questions? Contact Lisa George, george@jhf.org

