

Death & Dying Fellowship

...one of The JHF Feinstein Fellowships

70% of Americans prefer to die at home; only 25% actually do

80% of people want to talk to their health provider about end-of-life care; only 7% have

THE ELEPHANT IN THE ROOM

This Fellowship takes on a key challenge: the reality that professionals are not well prepared to deal with or talk about death, dying, and grieving families, especially during an era of COVID-19. The Fellowship allows participants to learn, confront, and discuss the legal, medical, social, cultural, familial, and spiritual aspects of death and dying within a multi-disciplinary group in a low-pressure environment. The sessions include opportunities to practice conversation skills, facilitated conversations, and virtual site visits.
